PRIVACY STATEMENT

The University of Canberra (UC) is subject to the provisions of the Commonwealth Privacy Act 1988 and you are entitled to protection of your privacy. This means that any information UC collects about you, including personal details, academic progress details, and personal welfare information, is treated by UC according to strict guidelines.

Access to your information is restricted to those staff who may need the information in order to carry out their responsibilities in your personal, educational, or academic interests. After you leave UC, it may approach you to seek financial or other support.

Other than in accordance with any legal or academic obligation, UC will not disclose personal information about you. This means that we do not release any information we hold about you, including your address, or your results, even to close relatives, without your permission.

The exceptions to the general application of these guidelines are the obligations imposed on us by law, Government regulation, or the requirements for normal operation of UC.

They include the following:

- When your award is conferred, your name will be published in the record of proceedings for the conferring of awards;
- We may publish your examination results and the award of a prize or scholarship;
- Your data may be included in aggregate socio-economic data by UC for planning purposes;
- We give the Department of Immigration and Citizenship (DIAC), the Australian Agency for International Development (AusAID) and Department of Education, Employment and Workplace Relationship (DEEWR) certain information which we are required to release;
- If you are alleged to have committed a criminal offence, we may be requested to assist the police with personal information about you for the enforcement of the criminal law; and
- If you apply to transfer to another tertiary institution we may release to that institution or tertiary admission centre information about your academic progress at UC.

A further explanation of precisely what information may be passed to these Government bodies or agencies can be obtained by contacting Student Services.
