工作相關學習體驗 Work-integrated Learning

In today's rapid changing world, work-integrated learning (WIL) is vital. Careers and Employability Centre (CEC) is committed to soliciting relevant learning opportunities to students and scaling up the employer network to enhance students' pre-employment and workplace skills.

Best Student Intern Award

In 2019/2020, fifty students from a suite of academic programmes were awarded with the Best Student Intern Award and gained a lot from their WIL experience.

Professor Ronald Chung, Dean of School of Continuing Education, officiated the SCE Best Student Interns Ceremony. While congratulating the awardees, he encouraged students to explore the real working world through WIL experience, and to understand the collaborative effort in a team. The achievements of today's awardees serve as the inspirations and encouragements to the fellow peers to actively participate in WIL for career preparation and development.

"I applied what I have learnt from the classroom in the real-world early childhood setting. The placement experience have inspired me to be a professional early childhood educator."

Hepta Chan, Graduate of Bachelor of Education (Honours) in Early Childhood Education

「實習讓我學以致用，在幼兒教育環境下將幼兒發展理論付諸實踐，並啟發我立志成為一個幼兒教育工作者。」
